

Fire-wielding entertainer

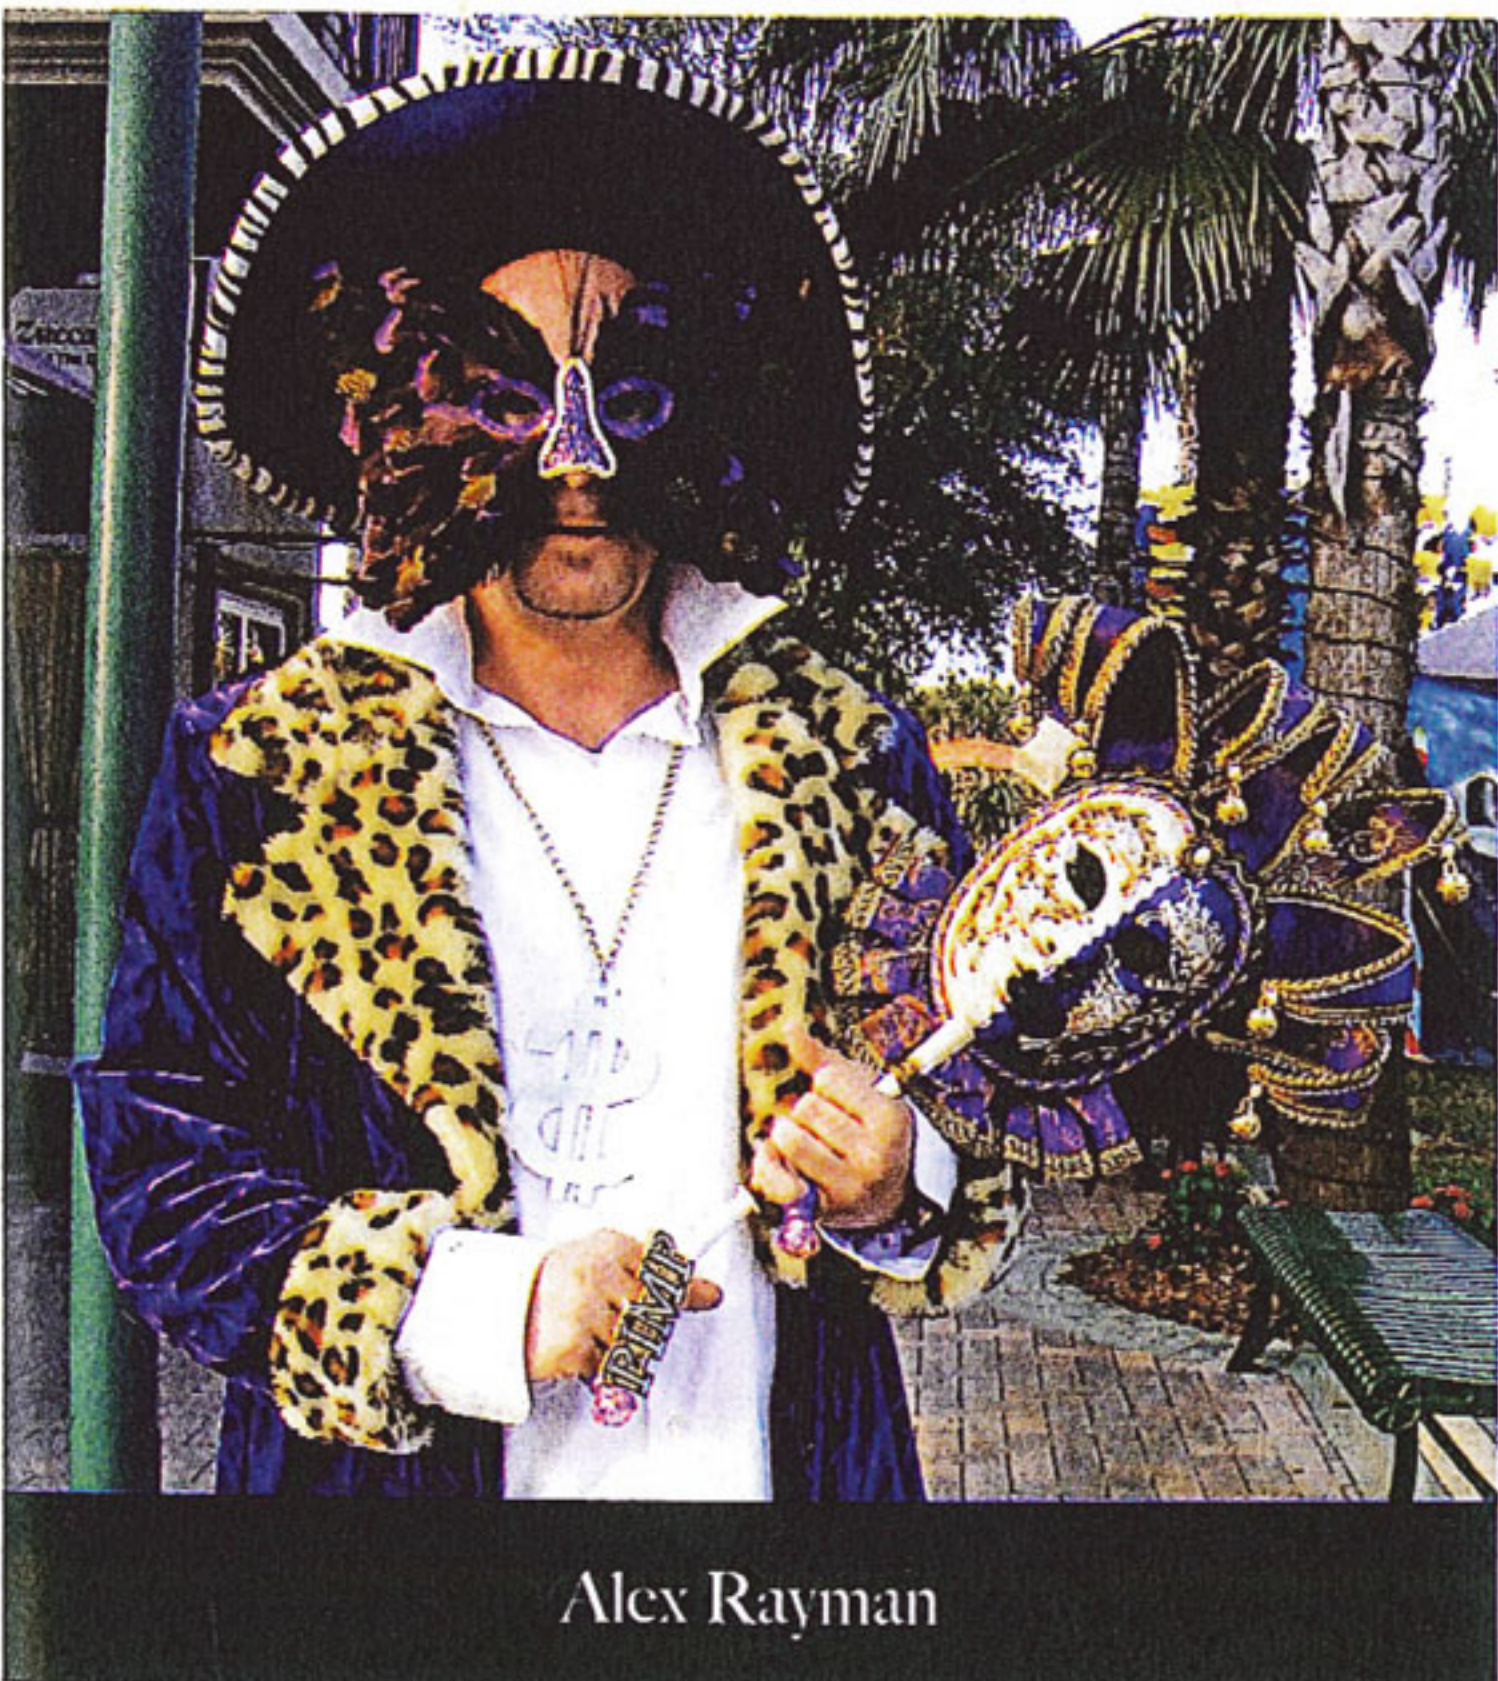

Accordion player

Olimpia Zuccarelli

Sam Aberle, Lauren Perrella, Aris Albaitis and Sharon Patterson

Alex Rayman

Zuccarelli's Carnevale

by Kimberly Field

Photography provided by d+g Communications Group

It was a night for Italian cuisine, desserts, fine wines, stilt walking, magic, dancing and humor, in a celebration of life and charity that could be heard off the PGA corridor. Hosted by Zuccarelli's Italian Restaurant, the Italian flare of "Carnevale di Palm Beach Gardens" attracted a plentiful crowd of costumed supporters and one Sylvester Stallone look-a-like. This year's festival supported the Susan G. Komen for the Cure®. Stunning costumes with decorative masks transported patrons back to Italy and all the splendor of old Carnevale. If the fire jugglers didn't get your heart going, then the variety of freshly made authentic Italian dishes did. The aroma, the laughter, and especially the food were all a perfect representation of the thirty years of Zuccarelli family restaurants in Palm Beach County. Topping the evening off was the traditional melancholy and celebrative music of the night. For more information on Zuccarelli's in PGA Commons call (561) 776-9889 or visit www.zuccarellis.com.